SOMERSET LIGHT OIL ADVANCES TO TWO DOLLARS

OTHER GRADES ALSO GO UP 10c TO 25c PER BARREL.

Pittsburgh, April 18.—An increase in the price of crude oil was announced here today by the principal purchasing agencies. The increase ranged from 10 to 25 cents a barrel.

The new prices effective today follow:

Pennsylvania crude, $3.25, an increase of 25 cents; Cabell, $1.96, an increase of 10 cents; Somerset, $1.75, an increase of 15 cents; Somerset light, $2, an increase of 20 cents; Raglian, $1.15, an increase of 10 cents.

The advance on the Somerset grades of crude oil, the principal product of the Kentucky oil fields, is the first in many months and marks the turn in a market which experienced a precipitate drop in the first ten weeks of '21.

Somerset light oil was at a high record point of $4.60 a barrel during most of 1920 and was at that point at the beginning of this year. Early in January a series of cuts were made effective, forcing the crude to a low of $1.80.

Oil development in Kentucky has been held in check by the low crude oil price and relatively high cost of operating. The opinion has been that an increase in crude oil prices would increase oil development interest in this State to a considerable degree.

Drilling to be Resumed.

King & Kingry, contractors running several strings of tools in the Blaine-Keaton field, on the Union Gas & Oil Company's property, will resume work the 25th instant, after having been shut down for a few weeks. All of the other rigs operating for that company about 20 will resume except three, it is reported.

Oil Well at Flat Gap.

Watkins & Preston have completed oil well No. 1, near Flat Gap, for the Jeff Newberry Oil Company. Oil was found in the Berea grit at about 850 feet in paying quantities. Work has started on well No. 2. This lease has no wells close to it and is therefore an important find. The stockholders are chiefly Huntington people.

Machine Shops in the Blaine-Keaton Field

R. E. Bernie, of the Cliff Boiler & Machine Company, is in Lee county for the purpose of moving a steam hammer and other oil well repair machinery to the Blaine-Keaton oil field of this county. There is a great deal of work to be done in the Blaine field and this plant will take care of all work there. The Louis plant is well equipped and doing a lot of repair and general machine work.

Cities and Towns to Get No Road Aid

The State Road department has announced that it will not build any federal and state aid roads through cities or towns.

This means that the Mayo Trail will reach only to the corporate limits of Louisville, north and south. This settles a question of a good deal of interest to citizens on prospective routes through the town.

This does not cut out the old State aid contract that was entered into for Leach avenue and a portion of Pike, Main Cross and Main streets.

ANOTHER BIG GAS WELL.

Well No. 2 has been drilled in on the John A. Dorton farm near Red Bush, Johnson-co. It is a gas well estimated at 1,250,000 cubic feet per day, which is better than the first well by about 250,000 feet. Tom Hays, G. R. Vinson, J. P. Miller and other Louis and Ashland people are the owners of the lease.

E. E. Shannon has bought from Jno. M. Rice the remainder of his holdings of the property in Louisville formerly owned by his father, Judge John M. Rice.

Dr. Charles Fox Anderson was unanimously elected at last Sunday's services as representative of the Louisville Baptist church at the meeting of the Southern Baptists to be held in Chattanooga, Tenn., the first of May.

Z. K. Tahnose, better known as Jack Thompson, arrived Sunday evening from Detroit, Mich., for a visit to Louisville friends. He is the guest of W. E. Queen and family. His many friends here are always glad to see him. Since returning from the army he has been in the grocery business in Detroit.

MORE FIGHTING NEAR WILLIAMSON, W. VA.

Williamson, W. Va., April 15.—A gun battle between mountaineers, fought in the hills last night near Dingess, Mingo county, and a knife fight between two men of one of the battling factions this morning, were reported to authorities here today.

It was not learned whether there were casualties in the gunbattle, which is said to have started over the seizure of moonshine whisky, but Willie Vance, a participant in this morning's fight, suffered seven knife wounds. He is not expected to recover.

Many shots were fired at the home of Ben Maynard, on the Kentucky side of the Tug river, two miles east of Williamson, and opposite the Lick Creek tent colony of striking miners in West Virginia. Maynard is a Pike county (Ky.) deputy sheriff.

K. N. C. BUILDING BEING FINISHED

Work is moving rapidly on the Kentucky Normal College building. The upper floors, including the large auditorium, are receiving the finishing touches. Additional framing work has been completed and plastering is well under way. The ceiling of the auditorium is to be of ornamental steel, with large beams, giving the spacious room added attractiveness.

A contract has been let for opera chairs with which to seat the entire auditorium, main floor and balconies. The chairs will be delivered by the time the room is ready to receive them. The number required will be almost 1500.

ELECTRIC PLANT IS LATEST MOVE IN CITY OF LOUISA

Mr. Mayfield, of Covington, is in Louisville trying to arrange for the installation of an electric plant for lights and power. His firm has built plants in several Kentucky towns.

Mr. Mayfield examined the franchise and rates recently approved by members of the city council and said it is satisfactory to him. He will ask the council at the next meeting for a franchise.

He has called attention to one fact that has not been generally realized here. Louisville is the largest city in Kentucky that has no general electric light and power service. This is accounted for by the fact that natural gas has been so generally used here for 25 years.

The city has now reached the point where an electric plant would pay and the opportunity will not long remain open.

Louisville's future never looked so bright as at present. Her favorable location, good citizenship and awakened spirit are beginning to show results.

Circus Coming to Louisa Saturday, April 30th

The Circus is coming—holds many interests for every member of the family. For example, Little Willie's behavior has been beyond reproach. He has seen the flaring posters announcing the coming of the circus and nighly chores are done with a precision which has caused mothers to take particular notice. Willie has felt the thrill.

The special trains bearing the Campbell-Bailey-Hutchinson Combined Circus and Wild West will arrive in Louisville at daybreak Saturday, April 30.

The glittering mile long free street parade will take place at noonday and there will be two complete performances at 2nd and 8 p. m. Doors will open one hour earlier.

BIG SANDY COAL HAS HIGH RATE

WHY NOT REDUCE IT RATHER THAN RAISE L. & N. RATE?

Coal rates from Eastern Kentucky and West Virginia to Cincinnati, Louisville and intermediate points were discussed at a joint hearing of the Coal, Coke and Iron Ore Committee of the Central Freight Association and the Southern Freight Traffic Committee for the railroads, and many interested shippers and coal operators from the various points concerned in the proposed increase of rates on coal over the Louisville & Nashville railroad, at the Hotel Sinton in Cincinnati.

The hearing was on the question raised by shippers and others who are affected by the differential of 36 cents a ton in favor of the L. & N. as against competitors who ship over the C. & O. and the N. & W.

Present rates on coal from the McRoberts district on the L. & N. are $1.75 a ton, while those from the Kanawha district are $2.10 a ton. The difference was created when increased rates went into effect last August, and was the result of unequal increases applied in making the rates.

Prior to last August the rates were practically the same, but when an increase of 49 per cent was made on coal from the Kanawha district and 25 per cent on coal from the McRoberts, the relation of the tariffs from the two sections was thrown out of alignment. It is because of this that shippers on the C. & O. and N. & W. have asked that the L. & N. rates be raised to $2 a ton. The old rate from both sections was $1.50 per ton.

E. H. Dulaney, of the L. & N. said that his road was willing to make the adjustment of the rates to the gasasked by shippers.

MRS. LEROY REID SUICIDE VICTIM

WHY NOT REDUCE IT RATHER THAN RAISE L. & N. RATE?

ILL HEALTH BELIEVED TO HAVE BEEN THE CAUSE OF RASH DEED.

The Logan (W. Va.) Democrat says:

News that carried much sadness and regret to many residents of this city reached here the first of the week of the death at Beckley on Monday morning of Mrs. Leroy M. Reid, wife of the only son of Rev. W. L. Reid, former pastor of Nighbert Memorial church, as the result of a bullet wound self inflicted on Sunday morning.

Mrs. Reid who was until her marriage a little more than a year ago, Miss Mattie R. Silling, daughter of Mrs. C. K. Silling, of Charleston, is reported to have been a sufferer from nervous disorders for several months, and most of that time under a doctor's care. This condition is believed to have been responsible for her rash act, which was evidently committed in a moment of temporary insanity. She had completed arrangements for a visit with her mother at Charleston on Saturday night, and had everything prepared for her departure on the Sunday morning train. Arising early, and without disturbing her young husband, reports state that she entered the bathroom, shot herself in the breast with a .32 calibre revolver and then walked back into the bedroom and told her startled husband that she wanted to die. Medical aid was hastily summoned and the patient was removed to the Beckley hospital where she lingered until four o'clock Monday morning. The body was shipped to Charleston later the same day, where the funeral was held with interment in the Spring Hill cemetery.

Leroy M. Reid lived here during the year his parent served as pastor of Nighbert church and remained for a year or more afterward, being identified with the automobile business and maintaining a garage and sales agency. He served in the signal corps at various American camps during the war, and at the close of which he returned to the automobile business, locating in Charleston, where he first met the young woman who later became his wife. When Rev. Reid was assigned to the M. E. South pastorate at Beckley, about two years ago, Leroy and his bride moved there, and the former established for himself a garage and repair shop, which he still maintains, and which is understood to have been more than ordinarily successful.

Rev. Reid is now located in a northern conference, having been transferred there at his own request at the close of the last conference year. His health has not been of the besetor some years as the result of a fall received at Prestonsburg, Ky., immediately following his Logan pastorate, and from which he received a broken collar bone and other injuries from which he has never completely recovered. His service in Logan occurred at the time the present Nighbert Memorial church was being built, and his work in that enterprise will cause his name to ever be closely linked with the activities and history of the denomination in this section.

DELILAH KEGLEY.

The subject of this sketch was born in Wytheville, Va., July 2, 1830. When a small girl she united with the Methodist Church, South of which she remained a member until her death December 29, 1919. She was married to Joel Kegley of the same place and county. Before the breaking out of the civil war they, with a number of families, came to Kentucky, settling in the wilderness. Clearing up the land and tilling the soil they raised a family of nine children, seven of whom still survive the mother. She was loved by all who knew her and was a good Christian mother.

Some 32 years before, her husband on his way from church was killed by a falling tree, she with five others escaping injury. When being visited by the doctor she asked him to tell her what he thought of her case, being told that she could not get well, she said, "It does not excite me a bit; I am ready to go." She left a host of friends and relatives to mourn her loss. But she waits to greet them at the Pearly Gates.

In another column of this paper will be found particulars of an effort to increase freight rates on coal from the L. & N. fields of Eastern Kentucky to Cincinnati, which are lower than the C. & O. rates. A better plan would be to lower the rates of the latter to the L. & N. level. Even then the rate from the Big Sandy field to Cincinnati would be over 50 per cent higher than five years ago. This ought to be sufficient.

The Commonwealth's Attorney at Harlan has secured the dismissal of Dr. H. C. Winnis, tried recently upon the charge of murdering Miss Lura Parsons. This action will meet with general approval, as the public believes that awful crime was committed by convicts that were being permitted to run at large in the mountains where the school teacher was killed. This was one of those rare cases where an innocent man suffers severely because of slight circumstantial evidence. The one jurymen who stood out for his conviction must be a rank misfit in the general economy of this world.

The railroads would do a great service to their country and make more money for themselves if they would reduce freight rates to the point where certain lines of business would not be killed. One instance showing that great losses are resulting from excessive freight rates came under our observation recently. While in Florida we saw an item in a local newspaper stating that 1200 car loads of good, juicy, fine flavored oranges in one county were being dumped to rot because freight rates are so high that growers and shippers can not get as much in the markets north of Florida as the freight and packing amounts to. These are the smaller sizes of oranges—just as good as any, but the large ones only will command a price sufficient to absorb the present high freight rates. Thus the growers lose heavily, the packers and shippers suffer, the railroads lose the business, and the consumers of oranges are deprived of delicious and wholesome fruit at a reasonable price.

The United States has a large surplus of farm products to export and we are seeking a sale for them in Europe. Now Congress is preparing to do the very thing that will make it impossible to trade with those countries. A high tariff on manufactured articles will prevent Europe, in her stricken condition, from buying anything of consequence. She has not the gold and if we shut out all her products she has nothing to pay with. America has no need to fear crippled Europe industrially. We are the most effective industrial nation in the world, with vast natural resources, educated labor of a higher class than exists anywhere else, and the most highly developed system of industrial management and mechanical production.

CHURCH NEWS AND OTHER MATTERS OF RELIGIOUS NATURE

Christian Education.

Franklin K. Lane, former Secretary of the Interior under President Wilson, recently said: "If the 5,500,000 illiterates in the United States were stretched in a double line at intervals of three feet, and were to march past the White House at the rate of twenty-five miles a day, it would require more than two months for them to pass."

The curse of our fair land is ignorance and illiteracy, but a better day is dawning; both Church and State are beginning to realize that America's salvation lies in educating the masses. Every State in the Union is giving largely for educational purposes, and all honor to the Southern States especially which are making heroic efforts to reach the neglected and uneducated. Coupled with what the States are doing is the work of the Southern Methodists, Southern Baptists, Southern Presbyterians, Episcopalians and other religious bodies who are uniting in their efforts to provide better equipment and better facilities for young men and women who are being urged as never before to take advantage of the opportunities made possible by the liberality of laymen of all denominations.

Lost—Somewhere between the breakfast table and the first anthem, on Sunday morning, twelve immortal minutes of divine worship and opportunity in the house of God. Same should be returned, if ever found, to the Latecomer family on Churchgoers Street; finder will not get much reward, but the Latecomers will be richly rewarded and the service of God made much more efficient. (No charge for this insertion.)

Bishop Darlington May 8th.

Elsewhere in the NEWS will be found the commencement calendar for Jno. C. C. Mayo College, Paintsville, announcing the baccalaureate sermon by Bishop Darlington, on May 8th, and an address by him on the evening of that day. Paintsville will have a number of visitors on that occasion.

At last Sunday morning's service we had several visitors and at the night service our time honored friend Jack Thompson worshipped with us. It will be remembered that the beautiful Bible that adorns the pulpit was presented by Jack at the time of the completion of the church on the first Sunday it was opened for worship. This gift has always been much appreciated on the part of the congregation.

The three minute speakers serving since last week were: Sunday school, Mrs. J. H. Preston; morning church service, Miss Margaret Luckey; evening, Mrs. W. E. Queen; prayer meeting, Miss Elizabeth Yates.

In another column of this paper will be found particulars of an effort to increase freight rates on coal from the L. & N. fields of Eastern Kentucky to Cincinnati, which are lower than the C. & O. rates. A better plan would be to lower the rates of the latter to the L. & N. level. Even then the rate from the Big Sandy field to Cincinnati would be over 50 per cent higher than five years ago. This ought to be sufficient.

The Anderson-Newcomb Co.

On Third Avenue Huntington, W. Va.

had been married six years. She was a good wife and a good mother. She was loved by all who knew her. She was laid to rest in the Hays' graveyard beside her baby, overlooking her sister's home. She was sick only a few days. Everything was done that loving hands could do, but Jesus saw best to take her home. Services were held by Bro. Bently. She was 23 years old. Eight years ago she was converted and lived a true Christian until her death. She is resting in the paradise of God.

She is gone but not forgotten.

A TAXPAYER'S VIEW.

Blaine, Kentucky.
Editor of the Big Sandy News:

I see in your last issue that the Board of Equalization has raised the assessed value of the property of the COUNTY $733,666.

It seems that the taxpayers do not realize the full effect of the work of the Assessor and that board. The State Board only required a raise of $300,- 00 above what the Assessor reported.

If I am informed right the Assessor failed to list about $100,000 worth of the property. If that had been properly listed it would have only required a raise of $200,000. Instead of raising the amount required they have raised it over $400,000 more than was required. Thus it will be seen that the taxpayers will have to pay a big amount more than they should. No fun in that sort of work. That is not all, there had to be summoned, 890 taxpayers at a cost of about $500 to appear before the board, some riding over 30 miles, taking two days and other expenses.

Wisdom.
When I have ceased to break my wings against the faultiness of things, And learned that compromises wait Behind each hardly opened gate. When I can look life in the eyes, Grown calm and very coldly wise, Life will have given me the truth, And taken in exchange—my youth.

Sara Teasdale.

Possibly the older generation cannot understand the newer principles of education, but whatever the principles used the results are expected to be more or less the same. A few things that have come to our notice recently lead us to believe that the girls and boys who came out of our old log school houses made better men and women than the boys and girls who came out of our imposing school buildings of today.

One thing that seems to be left out of our present day school curriculum is training in honor. What has become of the men and the women who would stick by their word once given, for all time thru thick and thin. Our young men and women in these days make promises and the promises amount to as much as the proverbial scrap of paper. Whose fault is it? Not theirs. They have never been taught that it is dishonorable to go back on a promise.

We are not knocking the school. We realize they are doing their best to fit our young people for the competition they will meet in a swiftly advancing age. Yet at the same time we cannot refrain from thinking that a few of the old-fashioned principles of education could well be retained in our schools. In our zeal to have our boys and girls grow into successful men and women as far as brains or money are concerned we should not neglect our duty of making honorable men and women also.

Thoughtfulness of others is a rare quality and one which few of us try to cultivate. We are all very careful to be thoughtful of ourselves, but when it comes to the other fellow it is a different proposition.

If you will find some thoughtful person and watch the situation you will find nine cases out of ten of his regard for other people cause him not the slightest inconvenience. It is in the small things that thoughtfulness is best shown—a letter to save someone from worry—a phone call if you must be late for an appointment—a quick turn of the conversation to save someone embarrassment—small things but sometimes they prevent a world of worry and trouble.

Intolerance is a fault easy to understand because we all have it to rather a marked degree—easy to understand but difficult to overcome. It sometimes seems strange that we meet so much intolerance when circumstances are constantly bringing conditions to our door that we would not tolerate in others last month or last year. But we always make ourselves believe that there's some excuse for us, that conditions are different with us than with anyone else. It is true that conditions may excuse us, but we should also remember it is quite probable we do not know the conditions in the other case either and they may make things quite as excusable. Sooner or later most of us will have to tolerate very much the same things in ourselves that we will not tolerate in others.

Self-esteem is a good thing but you don't want too much of it; enough of anything is enough, and no matter how good a thing is, too much is more than you need, and self-esteem is no exception to the rule.

It is well enough for a man to hold his head up and step around with an air of considerable importance if he is really doing any good in the world by living in it. Of course a man wants to possess self-confidence, and wants to think he is just as good as anybody, but he doesn't want to think that the welfare of mankind hinges on his actions, or that the earth rests on his shoulders.

You cannot increase a man's circumference of thought by a tape or find out his weight in the world with a pair of scales. The expansion of personality is limitless and depends upon the amount of energy we may master.

It makes a lot of men feel better to blame their troubles on the way they were born. But they know they are wrong. A man can't fool himself.

The Greatest Auction Sale in History

Sectional view of one of the areas at Camp Zachary Taylor showing character of buildings to be sold.

This Army Camp comprises 2,000 acres of valuable land, adjoining the city of Louisville, together with 2,000 buildings of various sizes, and a vast amount of equipment, such as boilers, plumbers' supplies, stoves, hot water heaters, radiators, electrical equipment, motors, heating and refrigerating plants, etc.

THE BUILDING PROBLEM

For years building has been at a practical standstill. The high cost of material, especially lumber, and the scarcity of labor have compelled a stoppage in the erection of homes, storehouses, barns, etc. That time has now passed. Workmen have been released by the hundreds of thousands and Camp Zachary Taylor will release lumber and equipment. 68,000,000 feet of yellow pine will be disposed of at this sale and at such prices as bidders see fit to pay. Come to this greatest of bargain sales and buy what you want at your own figures. Join with your neighbors in making up car lots to save freight rates. A vast number of cedar, white oak, chestnut and creosoted fence posts, water troughs and grain bins will interest every farmer. There are miles of woven wire hog-tight fencing. Two grain elevators, completely equipped with motors, conveyors and chutes.

This is an absolute sale. You win or you lose on April 25th. We sell no one privately, but do an exclusive auction business. No set price, no reservation, no by-bidding, no private sale. This has been our motto for twelve years we have been in business, during which time we have operated from the Great Lakes to the Gulf, and have never failed or refused to sell a single piece of land, or property of any kind, after it was placed under the hammer. ORR, KY.

The Fiscal Court of Lawrence county has since its establishment turned a deaf ear to the citizens of Orr, Ky., as concerns its roads leading from Webbville, Ky., to Orr postoffice only a distance of about 3 1/2 miles and fully two-thirds of this distance is in the creek, compelling pedestrians to wade the creek and in the winter the roads are almost impassable to anyone riding horseback or driving on account of ice.

We have remained quiet long enough and for our rewards, we received naught—though henceforth we expect to be recognized as one of Lawrence county's communities as we feel safe to say that a sole "dollar bill" of the county's money has not as yet found its way to this road and if any locality in Lawrence county has any more traffic, any more good citizens, any more business, any more need of a few dollars to be spent in this direction it's a vicinity completely cut off by no roads at all.

The road bed had been planned by Judge Boggs some several years ago and not any more made since and we feel it a remorseless shame, ridiculous to have to come out openly to the public that the county officials will allow such treatment to any of her neighborhoods.

The writer being a traveling salesman through the section of Lawrence and Elliott counties has failed to find any piece of road, even in Elliott county so badly neglected and regret to say that during bad weather the citizens have to resort to "bridle paths" across hills to get to train and secure mail.

There are about 250 citizens of Orr and business from oil fields and an outlet of Canes creek is through this route and we can't lay down under this pressure any longer as we must have a road this coming summer and fall if possible.

The candidates for County Judge and Magistrate for this section will do well to give their policies in detail to a meeting to be held by the citizens of Orr to be announced at a later date as to this road, for we, the citizens, have decided to drop politics in and not any more made since and we feel it is a remorseless shame, ridiculous to have to come out openly to the public that the county officials will allow such treatment to any of her neighborhoods.

The writer does not wish to offend anyone with this article, however, he feels it absolutely necessary to make moves in the directions of securing help from our county who take our taxes willingly but forgets us till taxes are to be paid again.

MOUNTAIN SCHOOL OF D. A. R. TO BE LOCATED AT HUEYSVILLE, FLOYD CO.

Lexington, Ky.—Hueysville, in Floyd county, was chosen as the site for the proposed Daughters of the American Revolution mountain school at a conference of the chapters of the D. A. R. in Kentucky. Sixteen of the thirty-six chapters were represented by twenty-nine delegates. The vote in favor of Hueysville was 14 to 11, four of the delegates not voting.

According to the report of the committee, headed by Mrs. Charlton Alexander, which selected the site, Hueysville offered $17,000, divided as follows: $10,000 in six and one-half acres of land, $6,000 in a new building and $1,000 in cash. The committee visited Hueysville last December.

Other sites suggested were in Lee, Menifee, Leslie and Elliott counties. Objections to Lee county were that the county was wealthy enough to maintain its own school without the aid of the D. A. R.—Louisville Times.

The New Depot.

J. E. Childers, L. L. Stone, M. C. Justice and Judge W. W. Reynolds, appeared before the Railroad Commissioner in behalf of the people of Pikeville in regard to the building of a new depot. The committee dismissed the petition on the ground that they had no jurisdiction to compel the railroad to build a new depot. Mr. Harris, superintendent of the C. & O. of Ashland, informed the Commissioner and also the committee that a new depot would be built at Pikeville just as soon as sufficient funds were in the treasury. We need a new building and the promise of a larger and better one is encouraging.

Church South, Ashland, is doing the preaching. He is an interesting and instructive pulpit orator and the public is invited to attend these services. Good music, good singing and good fellowship.

He became suddenly ill and was unable to fill his appointment Sunday morning. Dr. Webb is suffering with a severe cold and slight touch of pneumonia. Elect County Superintendent.

The Johnson County Board of Education after several attempts to name a Superintendent of Schools for this county compromised Monday. Prof. Fred Meade, the present Superintendent, and Prof. W. B. Ward, of the city schools, were applicants for the position, and had two votes each. The fifth member of the board was voting for Prof. Manford Bayes. After several attempts to name the Superintendent the board decided on Prof. Geo. W. Butcher, a member of the board, as a compromise candidate and his election was made unanimous. The new Superintendent will enter upon his duties January 1, 1922. A salary of $1,800 and expenses goes with the appointment. Prof. Butcher has been connected with the Jno. C. C. Mayo College for the past two years and is one of the leading educators of the country. He is well qualified for the position. He will hold the office four years.

Star Player From Johnson.

It will be of interest to the people of Offutt, this county, to know that one of their local young men, Robert Hayes, is a star player on the U. S. Minnesota baseball team. The position on the team that makes Mr. Hayes most prominent is catching. The Minnesota team has won many victories over some of the best teams in Havana, Cuba.

Dies at Age of 106 Years.

Mrs. Fannie Lemaster, one of the oldest residents of Magoffin county, and possibly of all Eastern Kentucky, died at her home at Falcon on April 1 at the ripe old age of 106 years. She could see without the use of glasses and maintained all her faculties until her death. She had always worked and was in the habit of doing her work without fretting. She had never missed a meal or taken a dose of medicine during her long life until the day before her death. She had always been a devoted member of the United Baptist Church being a member of the church at the head of the State Road Fork. She had many friends and relatives throughout the county, including three sons and three daughters who survive her.

INEZ ITEMS

I. S. Hyman of Huntington, W. Va., President of the Martin County Lumber Co., was attending court here this week.

Robt. Morris, of Huntington, and J. D. McLaughlin of Kermit, were here this week to appear before the Board of Supervisors in behalf of the Buck Creek Coal Co., and Earlston Coal Co.

Mr. Sublett of Charleston, W. Va., spent a number of days here during court looking after matters in connection with the assessment of the United Fuel Gas Co. It is reported on the street that the gas company will surrender the greater part of their leasehold in this county. This is due to the action of the Board of Supervisors who raises the value of their leases to double the amount they assessed to it. The company owns thirty odd thousand acres of leases in this county for which they pay the citizens large sums of money each year and if the leases are surrendered as stated it will be a heavy loss to the land owners that have been receiving these rentals. The rentals have paid the tax and helped them in many ways and if the leases are surrendered the land owners will have no one to blame except the present Board of Supervisors. All should pay tax on their property at a fair value but there is such a thing as taxing business out of the county. We feel that the Board was honest but there is an old saying that "a half loaf is better than no bread."

If the leases are surrendered as indicated the land owners property is not leased on the first day of July, the valuation of his property will be increased and the burden will be on him, without income from his property.

M. B. Collinsworth of the Dawkins Lumber Co., was attending court here looking after his interests.
